HELD MURDER.

Mrs. Nack Has Been Charged With That Offense.

AFFIDAVIT MADE BY A DETECTIVE.

The Police Still Searching For Thorn, the Accomplice-Further Identification of the Remains - Relatives Will Also Inspect Them.

New York, July 3.-In the mysterious murder trial the prisoner, Mrs. Nack. was brought before Magistrate Flammer, who insisted that the police, if they wanted to detain her further, must make a charge against her.

A complaint was accordingly drawn up, after the presentation of which and after hearing an affidavit made by Central Office Detective Joseph Donohue, she was held.

A further examination will be had in her case on Tuesday. The affidavit charging her with murdering Guldensuppe was as follows: Joseph Donchue of the central police office, being duly sworn, deposes and says that on or about the 26th day of June, 1897, in the city of New York, Augusta Nack, new here, and another person, not yet arrested, and that deponent has good reason to believe and does believe that said Augusta Nack and said unknown person, both or either of them, with force and arms did then and there willfully and feloniously and intentionally and did form a premeditated design to do unto death the said William Guldensuppe. And did kill and slay the sald William Guldensuppe. Deponent further says that a human body has been found in the city and county of New York and was identified by Frank Gariner, 29 years old, shampooer and rubber, No. 108 Dupont street, Brooklyn, and others did identify the said body as that of the said William Guldensuppe.

The parts of the body found indicate very clearly that the deceased met his death in a violent and brutal manner, by the use of some deadly weapon.

Deponent further says, upon information and belief, that the defendant was the last person known to have been in the company of the said William Guldensuppe and that the portions of the body found were wrapped or enveloped in material which the accused bought about the time that the said William Guldensuppe disappeared.

That said information as to the purchase of the said material by the accused was given to the deponent by Pauline Riger of 395 Jackson avenue, Long Island City, and the information as to the identification was given to the deponent by Frank Gartner and others, as aforesaid.

Wherefore deponent, upon said information, which he verily believes to be true, charges the defendant, Augusta Nack, and said unknown person, not yet arrested, with the crime of killing the said William Guldensuppe and prays that the said Augusta Nack be held to answer, according to law.

JOSEPH DONOHUE. Searching For Thorn.

The police are still hunting for Martin Thorn, the supposed accomplice of Mrs. Nack. They admit that with this man in their custody they will have advanced far toward the solution of the mystery which surrounds the murder of Guldensuppe. Thorn, however, is not easy to find.

He has disappeared as completely as if the earth had opened and swallowed him. His companions in the barber shop, Keehn and Vogel, the barbers for whom he used to work, say that Thorn used to live at Third avenue and Twenty-first street, but that they did not know at what address.

An investigation of the houses in that vicinity failed to show any trace of Thorn. One woman, a Mrs. Roberts, who has a furnished room house at 102 East Twenty-first street, said that last week she had a man whose name she thought was Thorn lodging with her. He was at the house only a few days. Unfortunately, however, he did not in any way resemble the description of Thorn. He left the house very suddenly, and she heard nothing more from him or of him.

A man who answers in every, way the description of Thorn was employed as a waiter at Anderson's pavillon at North Beach. Anderson said that the man had come there about a week ago and asked for employment. He had been very surly and grumpy and would not talk about himself at all.

He left as suddenly as he came. Anderson does not remember what day he came to work or what day he departed. Neither does he know the fellow's

The Legs Positively Identified.

Frank Brewster, the assistant chiropodist at the Murray Hill baths, went to the morgue and made a more searching examination, after which he made the following report:

"Those are the legs of William Guldensuppe, I believe. The identification is as positive as it is possible to make under the circumstances. Guldensuppe had a short foot, chunky, and the outside was curved. He had a corn on the little toe of the right foot, on which I operated. The nail on his great toe had been operated on by me. All these marks are on the feet at the morgue, A layman might think that all feet look about alike, but a chiropodist can recognize his own work with a fair degree of certainty, and I believe I recognize in those feet at the morgue the feet of Guldensuppe.'

Detective Donohue of police headquarters called at the morgue and took away all the oilcloth and other material that was wrapped around the various portions of the body of William Guldensuppe.

The detective said: "I do not know for what purpose these things are being removed, except that the police department deems it advisable to have them in its possession. If the things were left at the morgue, they might get lost. They will be needed in the future, and the chief of the department is taking only the necessary precaution in such cases to preserve the articles."

Relatives to Examine Remains. Philadelphia, July 3.-August Peterion, who lives with his mother on Thirty-first street and who is a nephew of William Guldensuppe, said that he would probably go to New York at once to identify the fragments of his uncle's body at the morgue there.

He and his mother are the only relatives of Guldensuppe in this country, choice, 60@721/4c.

Peterson knew his uncle very intimately, and he says he is familiar with marks on Guldensuppe's body by which he would positively know him. He "Guldensuppe was a native of Schleswig-Holstein, a province formerly un-der the Danish government, but now under the German. He came to this city 13 years ago and made his home with me. I am therefore perfectly aware of the appearance of his body. After a time he secured employment in a bathhouse as a rubber, but did not remain constantly in this city. He went to Reading once and finally left the city about three or four years ago. He wrote to me, but not very frequently, the last letter from him having been about nine months ago. I saw him for the last time about a year ago. He was then boarding with Mrs. Nack, on One Hundred and Sixtieth or One Hundred and Sixty-sixth street, on the east side, New York city.

"We have in our possession several pictures of him, one of which was taken in this city, on North Second street, filte velor in The newspaper pictures bear a these pictures, and I have no doubt that the pictures and to be lose of Guldensuppe are really him. I 'mow of certain marks, of which I will positively not speak at this time, by which I can tell whether the body in New York is or is not that of Guldensuppe."

CONDENSED DISPATCHES.

The steamer Aransas has sailed from Havana with 1,200 bales of leaf tobacco.

In the fighting which took place in the suburb of Chitpore, Calcutta, between the police and the rioters, many policemen were injured, Edgar D. Thornburgh of 100 Broadway, New York, is said to have disappeared, leaving behind him debts amounting to $100,000. Thornburgh was a banker and broker. Frank Clark, 22, became involved in a difficulty with his stepfather, John Rainback, at Little Rock. The father attempted to cut the boy, when the latter drew a revol•er and killed him. The new law prohibiting gambling in Montana is being universally observed. The law even prohibits shaking dice for drinks and makes playing cards for prizes in social gatherings unlawful. Patrick McEneany, an aged saloon keeper at Port Jervis, N. Y., stepped out upon the porch of his saloon to speak to a friend, turned his ankle and fell from the stoop two feet to the ground, breaking his neck. Ferdinand Herve, 59, today shot Rose Dreley, 36, of 271 West One Hundred and Fourteenth street, New York, in the back and in the head and then shot himself in the left breast, killing himself instantly. Her death is expected. Weather Predictions.

ON THE TIP OF THE TONGUE.

Conductor Coleman and Motorman Reed wear mournful faces nowadays. When the express messengers for the trolley service fell to them they were the envied of all the position-holders. But now, alas! No one rides on the closed car. Fair damsels who were want to pick the front seat of an open car to "get a breeze" and watch Motorman Reed control the car, now throw sad glances at him and call out: "We'll wait for the next car."

Jacob Newmark, of the lunch wagon trust, is an expert wheelman-part of the time. "Jakie" wears glasses, but his ears are all right. When he was coming into town on his wheel at a fast The Casino Theatre Co. coming into town on his wheel at a fast clip, a night or two ago, he heard Erie No. 3 approaching the North street crossing and he scorched along to get ahead of the lowering of the gates. He dropped his head and went on the tracks as the gates were being lowered. He reached the southern gate just in time to plunge his head into it at its strongest part He picked himself up and walked around in "a circle" for a few moments and when he recovered sufficiently an acquaintance asked him how he felt. He tried to grin and replied:

"For a few minutes I didn't care even if the aldermen had made me get off the streets with my wagon."

Umpire "Jack" Degnan said, to-day: Tierney had to pitch over the plate in the game with the Port Jervis boys. He kicked, or course, but every time he said anything to me I said: 'Pitch em over the middle of the plate. Bill; you're big enough and strong enough. When he sent good balls over the plate the Port Jervis men generally missed them. but as soon as he sent a high one they landed on it. Then he would turn around to me and say: Look at the fellow pick that ball off his ear." All of which will be appreciated by the base ball enthusiasts, it it does seem like a foreign lauguage to some of our readers.

When it was mentioned in this column. a few weeks ago, that there was money in sight for the man or boy who would open a helgramite market, the extent to which the business would be developed was hardly anticipated. Friday after noon there were no less than a score or boys and young men scouring the shallow places in the Wallkill and its tributary brooks in quest of the crawlers. There has been a great demand for them this afternoon by those who are planning tishing excursions for Monday.

Horace Dusenberry & Son display in their window a photograph of "Banjo Bill' Knapp, sitting on a "man motor" which he originated in 1869. It was made on sulky wheels, the lightest wheels made at that time, and was propelled by rotary pedals similar to those used in children's chair bicycles. Several bicycle manufacturers who know of this old wheel have made efforts unsuccessfully to fird it. It was made at Montgomery.

in the autumo. -It is strange how hard one is obliged to work sometimes to get a little rest. A friend was telling the writer, the other day, of her frantic struggles to take an afternoon nap and how worn out she was with her efforts. The friend in question was suffering with a nervous headache; and finally came to, a spot where she could give up to it and lie down for a time. She sank upon the bed with a sigh of relief, closed her eyes, the pain that had been tearing the back of her head began to release its grip a little, and she was commencing to think what a comfortable hour she was about to spend. She reckoned, however, without a gale of wind that happened to be blowing at the time. First the door of the next room gave one or two preliminary creaks and then began to bang at irregular intervals. She lay still for a few moments, hoping that some one else would get aggravated enough to go and shut it. No one did, so she got up, did it herself and went back. Next the shade in front of an open window began to flap; she rose again, rolled it up to its fullest extent and once more returned to her couch. A few moments passed peacefully, then the shade unrolled and the flapping recommenced. Somewhat irritated, she made another sortie. closed the window with emphasis and resolved to have that nap or perish in the attempt. In the mean time, the wind shifted to the other side of the house; and other shade began to flap, one of the curtains climbed out of the window and tried to run over to the neighbor's, and the pictures on the wall rattled. As the day was hot and she did not wish to shut all the windows and smother, she made another excursion: tied the curtain to the bureau, tacked the shade to the window frame, and took down the pictures. By this time her head was raging and her temper showed signs of wear and tear. She said she freely expected that the next trip, she would bave to take up the carpet and move out the furniture, but fortunately things quieted down a little just then, so once more she wrapped the drapery of her couch about her and lay down, but not. alas! to pleasant dreams, for just then the dog came in, also in search of a nap. She told him it was no place for them. that she she was out of them that day. and to call again, but he persisted, and the half doze into which she finally fell was punetuated by the clicking of his jaws, as he snapped at the flies. She vows that next time she has a beadache she will clean house or take in washing. or do some little thing that will not over tire her, but never again will she attempt

NO PAPER, MONDAY.

Monday being the day set apart for the celebration of the one hundred and twenty-first anniversary of American Independence, no paper will be issued from this office.

By reason of the day we celebrate this is a free country, and it follows that any newspaper has the right to publication each and every day of the year. But as for the Argus it draws the line at the Fourth of July, that day of days immortal in the annals of the Republic. The Angus's employes will be at liberty to celebrate their country's natal day, as were their fathers and their father's fathers. May they have a good time. may the fires of patriotism be kindled anew in their hearts, there to burn for-

Viewing the subject in a broader sense, this country suffers from a failure to observe independence Day in the way in which the fathers kept and honored it. The lessons of patriotism, of pride in our nation's glorious history and achievements, and of devotion to the priceless blessings bequeathed us by the tounders of the Republic, which were learned by and impressed upon the people at the Fourth of July celebrations of the olden time, were a bulwark of strength to the nation in its hour or need. The utilitarian spirit of to-day, the greed which cannot spare even our country's day or days from the quest of the almighty doilar, is a poor substitute judeed for patriotism and national pride.

nounced that the strike of the bituminous coal miners, which is to be mangurated July 4th, "is instigated by the Ohio Democratic leaders, who wish to cut off the supply of eoal and thus paralyze industry" With nearly 150,000 men in the non and steel, glass and other trades idle in Western Pennsylvania and Ohio, it would seem that industry was sufficiently paralyzed to obviate the neces-Fity of conspiracy to paralyze it further.

The New York Journal, which for several days had a long lead on the World in its efforts to "aid justice" in unrayeling New York's murder mystery was left an behind yesterday, by its rival. The World, aided by the preternatural intelbecause of the sorrel borse Mrs. Nack and Martin Thorne drove on their Saturday night ride, was able to locate a lot or grewsome relies -blood stained rags and " sich," which it asserts were partly burned by the murderers As sleuths, the reporters for New York's sensational papers, leave the detective force far brland. The onlytrouble is that their excess of zeal discredits, the "cyclence" they bring to light.

Ohio has entered on the livelest political campaign it has known since the days of "Old Bill" Allen Factional fends weaken the Republican organization, especially in the cities, wide spread, discontent in the industrial centres will cost the party many votes which it bad last year, and Foraker and his friends, though professedly friendly to Hanna and his senatorial aspirations, are distrusted, for it is known that they have razors in their boots which they will use if occasion offers. On the other hand, the Deniocratic party enters on the campaign handscapped by a very badly managed State convention, which needlessly repelled gold Democrats, which refused help that free silver Republicans were auxious to give, and which by the way in which its nominations were made left many antagonisms. With these conditions before them, each party is none the less confident of success and the State will be canvassed more thoroughly than in any campaign in recent years.

THE COAL MINERS' STRIKE.

Estimated that 142,000 Men Will Quit Work July 4th, BY ASSOCIATED PRES

PITTSBURGE, Pa., July 3 .- The largest convention of coal miners ever held in this district began here at 10 o'clock, this morning, to take action on the strike. Circulars were sent out by the general officers a few days ago. President Dolan stated the the committee on resolutions had prepared a report and that this would be preented, this after-

In the Pittsburg district 21,000 miners will be concerned.. Many of these, however, have not been working regularly ior some time. In the Clearfield district 25,000 miners are employed when the mines are running, and District President Dolan says the whole district will go out. The number of men in other States who are concerned in the present strike, so far as can be estimated, is as follows: Ohio, 25,000; Illinois, 40,000; Indiana, 9,000, and in West Virgina about 22.000; total 142,000.

GRAND JURY SCORED.

Fustice Gummere Talks Very Plainly to the Mercer County (N. J.) Members.

Trenton, July 3.-The Mercer county grand jury, after an investigation of about two weeks in connection with county affairs, which were investigated by a special commission, came into court yesterday and announced that they had no indictments. They handed up some papers, which indicated that they may have made a presentment to the court.

Justice Gummere severely scored the grand jury and said there were only two possible conclusions to be formed. One was that they had not made a complete investigation, and the other was that they had deliberately violated their ob-He instanced the case of Freeholder

Cross, who had sold coal to the county in the name of a third person. He said this was a clear violation of the criminal law, and the jury could not escape finding a bill of indictment.

As to the county roads frauds, he said it was possible that the overpayment of thousands of dollars may have been the result of honest mistakes, but he found it hard to believe this and was inclined to the opinion that the grand jury had not made a sufficiently thorough investigation. He therefore ordered them to retire

The indictments charge that the defendants, all of whom have control of the Louisville police force, have willfully and flagrantly violated and neglected the city in failing to close the ooms in this city.

True bills were also returned against the Turf Exchange, the Newmarket and the Suburban poolrooms and against the private policemen who watch these resorts. It is the culmination of an effort started some time ago to close th poolrooms and stop all gambling.

STRANGE PHENOMENON.

Continuous Rise and Fall of the Ses Near Barcelona.

Barcelona, Spain, July 3-There was a strange phenomenon here on Thursday. The sea rose and fell a yard every ten minutes for several hours. The moorings of the British warship Surprise were carried away, and she had to put to sea. The same phenomenon occurred at the time of the Krakatoa earthquake.

Krakatoa was a volcanic island in the strait of Sunda, the passage between the Islands of Sumatra and Java from the Indian ocean into the sea of Java. The island, which had an area of 13 square miles, was destroyed by an earthquake and disappeared in 1883. It was situated in latitude 6 south and longitude 105 east.

Damage Verdict Set Aside.

Boston, July 3.-A verdict of $24,500 in favor of Lewis Olsen, who sued the New York, New Haven and Hartford railroad for damages, has been set aside and a new trial granted by Judge Hopkins of the Suffolk superior court. Olsen, who lives in Cambridge, lost both legs by being run over while at work for the Boston Bridge works on April 13, 1896, building a drawbridge over Fort Point channel. The verdict was the largest returned in the superior court for Suffolk in a personal injury case for a year.

HAD YELLOW FEVER.

City of Para's Passengers Tell a Startling Tale.

MANY DEATHS OCCUR ON THE TRIP.

Three-fourths of the Passengers Said to Have Been Attacked by the Disease-Fucts Were Hidden by the Officers,

New York, July 3.-Passengers who have just arrived here on the steamship Allianca tell a harrowing story of their experience aboard the Pacific Mail steamer City of Para, which left Panama for San Francisco on May 23 last, It seems that two days after clearing the isthmus yellow fever broke out among the crew and passengers of the big Pacific liner, which caused a panic on board and resulted in the death of the commander of the vessel, Captain Martensen.

Three-fourths of the passengers, it is said, were attacked by the dread contagion, and at least a dozen of them found watery graves in the Pacific ocean. When the vessel finally reached San Francisco, the facts of the terrible voyage were suppressed, and the sickness and death were attributed to tropical dysentery.

But the passengers who came here say that there was no mistaking the sympins, which were plainly those of yel-

Raging on the Isthmus.

The contagion was raging on the isthmus, but when the passengers went on board the City of Para they were told by the officers that they need not have any fear. There was no effort at fumigation, and Mrs. Captain Mitchell the wife of an Englishman commanding one of the vessels of the Chilean line, made her appearance on the City of Para heavily veiled. There was no uneasiness. Three days out she died from the so-called "tropical dysentery." St was buried at sea, and the next to be taken down was Captain Martensen of the City of Para. Before he died the fever had spread all over the ship.

In the first class cabin and steerage alike the yellow death dealer went, and how many were prostrated will probably never be known. The officers suppressed every scrap of news they could, and Dr. Renz insisted on his original diagnosis. At Punta Arenas the Echeveria family, one of the richest in Costa Rica, took passage on the City of Para, not knowing that yellow jack was raging on board.

Discovered Too Late.

They were not long in finding it out, however, but by that time the vessel had weighed anchor and was proceeding on its voyage. Up the coast there were two or three funerals a day, and those who were not affected were panic stricken at their danger.

After much pleading, Mrs. Holt, whose husband is in the pig iron business in this city, Mr. and Mrs. Zeyss and their daughter, owners of a coffee plantation at Matagulpa, Nicaraugua, were put ashore at Corinto, and at San Jose de Guatemala several members of the Echeveria family were landed. Senor Echeveria, however, remained on the City of Para, and reached San Fran-

It is alleged that the officers of the vessel supplied the passengers with spoiled meat before San Jose de Guatemala was reached, and this bad food is believed to have added additional impetus to the yellow fever's course. At San Salvador a band bound for the exposition at San Jose de Guatemala came aboard, and while the passengers were sick and dying around them the musicians gave five hour concerts daily. There were several Americans on board and they also landed with the Echeverias. Some of them returned to Panama and crossing to Colon came back to this city, arriving here on the Al-

Peralta Reavis only claimed 12,000,000 acres, but Garza holds that the grant included 50,000,000 acres, and that he has ample proof of the claim. He says the records are in San Luis Potosi and not in Spain.

Consumption comes ike a thief in the night The victim is unconscious, never dreaming of its dreaded presence. Some little door or window of the system has been left unlocked dow of the system has been left unlocked and the frightful visitor has stolen in. If the house of life had been well guarded it never would have happened. Consumption can be kept out just as well as any other disease can—if you strengthen up the weak places of the system and keep them strong. When the system begins to show signs of poor, weak, impoverished blood; when digestion fails and weight goes down from the normal standard, then is the time to be auxious and slide the bolts against dangerous disease. Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery fills the blood with the life-giving red corpuscles which vitalize the entire circulation. It builds up wasted tissue; nourishes the nerves; rounds out sunken cheeks and emaciated forms; brings back appetite and emaciated forms; brings back appetite and digestion, sound sleep and strong healthy vitality. It does not make flabby fat like cod liver oil, but solid muscular flesh and nerve force.

Hesh and nerve force.

Mrs. L. F. Coates, of Blythebourne, Kings Co., N. Y., writes: "Three years ago, I was so sick I could not eat, sleep or walk, for I coughed all day and night. The first night that I sleep for hours at one time, was after I had taken three doses of Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery. The offensive matter expectorated grew less every day and when I had taken the whole of one bottle I could sleep all night without coughing, and have been well ever since and weigh 178 pounds."

JAY GOULD'S ESTATE

Decision of the Appellate Court In the Matter.

GEORGE GOULD'S PAY FOR SERVICES

Allowed by the Court - Appraisement of $73,000,000 by the Surrogate Affirmed-Judge Ingraham Alone Dissents.

New York, July 3 .- The appellate division of the supreme court has affirmed the order of the surrogate appraising the estate of Jay Gould at about $73,000,000 and also affirmed the order of the surrogate deducting the legacy of George J. Gould ($5,000,000) and the expenses of administration in arriving at the value of the property for purposes of taxation.

The opinion, which was written by Judge Williams, was concurred in by Judges Van Brunt, Rumsey and Patterson. Judge Ingraham dissented and gave his views for so doing. Judge Williams stated that in administering the estate debts, commission and expenses of administration should be deducted in ascertaining taxable values and that this accords with the general practice and is permitted by a just construction of the law. Claims That the Legacy Was a Gift.

The comptroller did not dispute this, but insisted that the legacy of $5,000,000 was not given in payment of any legal debt, but was a gift or gratuity from the late Jay Gould and liable as such to taxation.

Judge Williams did not think that the admission of George J. Gould on this point was improperly received because he was an interested person, as it was not a proceeding of a witness against the estate to establish a claim, but a proceeding to ascertain the value of property for the purpose of taxation and consequently permissible.

Judge Williams held that the decedent intended to pay his son for 10 years of labor at the rate of $500,000 a year, and this was clearly a debt that could be enforced against the estate.

Concluding his opinion, Judge Williams stated that the expenses of administration were properly deducted, $75,000 already having been expended and $75,000 would be expended. In his dissenting opinion, Judge Ingraham said that the $500,000 was more of the nature of a gratuity or gift than the payment of a debt and should be taxed. He also found fault with the way the securities were appraised and said in his opinion a fair market value was not received by the appraisers, and in many instances he considered the appraisal excessive.

Judge Ingraham suggested that the whole matter be sent back to the surrogate for reappraisement.

No More Sanday Ball Playing. Rochester, July 3.—Sunday baseball has been killed for the balance of the season in Rochester. A crusade against Sunday ball was begun recently by law and order people. Ran Iuto an Iceberg.

St. Johns, N. F., July 3.-The steamer Furtor, with a load of lumber, bound from West Bay, N. S., for Barry, Wales, ran into an iceberg when 180 miles east of Cape Spear. The night was perfectly clear, but the iceberg was under water. The bow of the vessel was crushed in, and the front plates were driven five feet back. The crew had to shift the lumber, as the starboard rail was under water, and it was only with extreme difficulty that the Furtor reached port. She will be docked here for Cause of Volcanic Eruption.

Cincinnati, July 3.-A Chillicothe, O. special says that residents in the neighborhood of the supposed volcanic eruption near Bainbridge believe they have fathomed the cause. It has been known for years that there is a cavernous formation in that locality, and the belief is that these caves are falling in. There has never been any thorough investigation to ascertain their extent. The inhabitants are still apprehensive of further disturbances.

Distinguished Guests on the Brooklyn. Southampton, July 3.-The deputy mayor and sheriffs of Southampton, accompanied by the United States consulat this port, paid an official visit to the United States cruiser Brooklyn yesterday afternoon. Fighting Again In Epirus.

Constantinople, July 3.-The newspapers of this city report that in a batde which has just taken place between 400 Greek raiders and a detachment of Ottoman troops near Metsovo the former were repulsed with the loss of 120 killed. Reciprocity and Retaliation Held the Senate's Attention.

TEXT OF THE DIFFERENT CLAUSES.

Both Are to Be Regarded as Legitimate Measures of Self Preservation-Some Spirited Debate on Both Items. Proposed Amendments.

Washington, July 3 .- Reciprocity and retaliation were the two phases of the tariff bill which occupied the attention of the senate to the exclusion of all other subjects. Both provisions were agreed to, although the debate on the reciprocity clause was protracted to 6 p. m. Shortly before adjournment Mr. Allison endeavored to secure an agreement on the time for a final vote, but Mr. Teller would not consent to fixing the time until all proposed amendments had been submitted to the senate. As Mr. Allison was not prepared to submit these amendments he withdrew his request, and the time for the final vote was left open.

The retaliatory clause provides that whenever any country bestows an export bounty on any article then upon the importation of such article into the United States there shall be levied in addition to the duties provided by the act an additional duty equal to the amount of the bounty. The debate on the section disclosed some difference of opinion on the Democratic side, Mr. Gray of Delaware and Mr. Lindsay of Kentucky opposing it, while Mr. Caffery of Louisiana supported it as a legitimate measure of self preservation. Mr. Gray dwelt upon the effect of the clause in evading our treaty obligations with Germany and Austria. The clause was agreed to-33 to 19-the two Democratic senators from Louisiana, Caffery and McEnery, voting with the Republicans in the affirmative.

The reciprocity clause empowers the president, with the advice and counsel of the senate, to make reciprocity treaties, giving 20 per cent reduction in duties on designated articles or placing articles on the free list. The amendment brought out much opposition. Senators Mills, Vest, Pettus, Teller and White arguing that it evaded the constitutional right of the house of representatives to participate in measures affecting revenue, while Senators Morgan, Gray and Chandler defended its legality and propriety. Later in the day the vote was taken, and the reciprocity clause was agreed to—30 to 18 two Democrats, Gray and Morgan, voting with the Republicans in the affirm-

Early in the day Mr. Wellington (Rep.) of Maryland, rising to a question of personal privilege, vehemently upheld his senatorial prerogatives in the matter of federal appointments.

Senator Lodge has prepared a draft of an amendment to the tariff bill providing for a stamp tax on stocks and bonds in arcordance with the action of the Republican senatorial caucus and submitted it to the finance committee. As prepared, the amendment provides for a tax of 5 cents a share of $100 or fraction of the face value of capital stock or of bonds on their issuance and 2 cents for each $100 or fraction on each transfer of stocks or bonds. United States and state bonds are exempted, as are individual bands to seture mortgages and also the stock and onds ci mutual benefit building assosations. The amendment has been submitted to the Republican members of th- judiciary commutate and approved by them as to form. Senator Lindsay of Kentucky has also proposed an ameniment of which an equiry will be mad- by the president into the exclusion of American tobacco from France and Spain under the Regi-

The Ground Hog of the Wallkill Has a New Enemy,

Though it is decidedly against the law, three young men from the vicinity of Scotchtown, armed with spears and aided by flaming torches, waded the Wallkill, Friday night. They had no opportunities to sink their spears in a carp's anatomy until just as they neared the trap doors of the mill. There four big fellows were seen together. The man with the largest spear struck first and he nailed a fourteen-pounder to the mudbe any prizes left from the pole climbing | dy bottom. The other spear-swinger missed his fish, and in a moment the fish joined a school under the mill, where they rested in the still water, safe from the spearers, who did not dare carry their fires under the building.

If every carp in the stream could be removed in this way the fishermen would be pleased, but they do not like the idea of a reckless spearsman wading among the big bass.
